

OROMO

- If you are threatened with injury or property damage, or have been injured, or your property has been damaged,
- And you believe you were targeted because of your race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, sexual orientation, mental, physical, or sensory handicap, homelessness, marital status, age, parental status, gender or political ideology,
- You may be the victim of a bias or hate crime, also known as Malicious Harassment (Washington State Law RCW 9A.36.080 or Seattle City Law SMC 12A.06.115).
- Dial 911 as soon as possible.
- Answer the dispatcher's questions as well as you can.
- If you need language assistance, say the name of your language at the beginning of your call and the dispatcher will connect you with an interpreter.
- When you speak with the police officer, be specific about what was said and done.
- Point out witnesses if they are present.
- Seattle Police officers will not ask you your immigration status, or report anything about your status to the Federal Government if you are the victim of or a witness to a crime.
- In some cases, you may be eligible to apply for a visa to assist in a court case in which you are a victim.
- You may contact the Bias Crimes Detective at (206) 684-5621 if you have questions.
- You may obtain a copy of your police report by calling (206) 684-5454, or in person at:
