

Seattle Office of Inspector General

Seattle
Community
Police Commission

Seattle Office of Police Accountability

For immediate release

November 3, 2020

Re: Joint Partner Statement on Election Day

On this momentous Election Day, and in its wake, the Community Police Commission, the Office of Inspector General, and the Office of Police Accountability stand firmly committed to the constitutional guarantees of free exercise of speech and the right of people to protest the government. Our offices will be monitoring events as they unfold and will continue to work with the Seattle Police Department to ensure that those exercising their First Amendment rights will be able to do so safely and without interference. We encourage protestors to keep themselves and their fellow residents safe and to avoid violence and keep our city and community intact.

Regardless of the outcome of this election, we will have to find a way to move forward as a community—we are all in this together.

---

Prachi Dave
CPC Co-Chair

---

Rev. Harriett Walden
CPC Co-Chair

---

Rev. Aaron Williams
CPC Co-Chair

---

Brandy Grant
Interim CPC Executive Director

---

Lisa Judge
Inspector General for Public
Safety

---

Andrew Myerberg
Office of Police
Accountability Director