CONNECTED THERMOSTATS

Installing a connected thermostat is a simple way for businesses to save energy and money while providing a more comfortable environment for occupants.

Advanced features give you more control over your building's HVAC system, allowing you to match operation with occupancy. You can also tap into valuable data on energy use and equipment performance to further boost energy efficiency. More good news: Seattle City Light is offering rebates on qualifying products and installations.

Savings

- Rebate amount: For each qualified thermostat, get up to $200 (up to 70% of the cost), which includes $150 for installation and $50 for initial programming verification
- Average savings: $90 per year (electric heat)
- Typical payback: 2–3 years, including rebate

Requirements

- Available for small to mid-sized commercial buildings
- Must replace an existing standard thermostat
- One new thermostat per supply fan serving a single zone
- 24/7 occupancy or semi-conditioned spaces, lodging, and multifamily buildings are not eligible
- Gas or electric heating are eligible
