

Seattle Center Seeks Candidates for Positions on the Seattle Center Advisory Commission

Seattle Center is seeking candidates for open positions on the Seattle Center Advisory Commission. This 16-member board, appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the Seattle City Council, advises Seattle Center staff, the Mayor, and City Council on policies affecting Seattle Center's operations and redevelopment. The Commission also provides ongoing assessments of department performance, plans, and policies to Seattle Center staff, the Mayor, and City Council. Commissioners serve as advocates for Seattle Center, supporting its role as the cultural and community heart of the city. Learn more about the Commission here.

We are seeking civic-minded individuals who bring diverse perspectives and share a passion for arts, culture, sports, and entertainment. Ideal candidates will be enthusiastic about contributing their time, creativity, and insights to support Seattle Center's continued growth and vibrancy.

The Seattle Center Advisory Commission meets on the first Thursday of each month, from 12:00 p.m. to 1:30 p.m., at Seattle Center. While virtual attendance is available, in-person participation is preferred, and a commitment to regular attendance is essential. Commissioners will also have the opportunity to engage in a variety of events and activities at Seattle Center throughout the year. Anyone interested in serving on the Seattle Center Advisory Commission may send a resume and letter of interest to kaori.kiyono2@seattle.gov. Applications will be accepted until the position has been appropriately filled. Resumes will be reviewed by Seattle Center, and selected candidates will be recommended to the Mayor's Office for appointment.

The Mayor and City Council appoint residents of Seattle to over 70 boards and commissions.
