

NE 130th St & NE 125th St Mobility and Safety Project

Improving connections to light rail and your neighborhood!

In 2026, Sound Transit is opening the NE 130th St light rail station near I-5 and anticipates 3,300-3,700 daily riders – with 90% of riders arriving by walking, biking, or transit. Our planned improvements will make it safer and easier to get to the new light rail station for people walking, biking, rolling, and taking the bus. Our team is designing improvements along NE 130th St, Roosevelt Way NE, and NE 125th St between 1st Ave NE and Lake City Way NE.

Project improvements include:

- Protected bike lanes throughout the project area
- Transit improvements such as new or upgraded bus stops and priority bus features to improve frequency and reliability
- Updated street and intersection designs to reduce fatal and serious injury crashes
- Crossing improvements such as leading pedestrian intervals to give people walking and rolling a head start
- Sidewalk repairs and new accessible curb ramps in selected locations

Scan the QR code below to visit our website and fill out our feedback form. Your feedback will help us better understand community needs now and in the future.

We want to know:

- How you travel in the neighborhood
- How your travel might change when the NE 130th St light rail station opens
- What you think about our early design proposals

Project Timeline

we are here

- Planning (Completed): We talked with community members and business owners to build on previous planning and community engagement work done in the area. Our work included designing safety and accessibility improvements equitably and within available funding.
- Design (2023-2025): We will create and share project design proposals, ask for community feedback, and finalize project design.
- Construction (2025-2026*): We will share more information about construction schedules, activities, and neighborhood impacts when we reach this stage.
- Light rail service begins (2026): Sound Transit plans to open the NE 130th St Infill Station and begin service in 2026. Please visit Sound Transit's website for current schedule and project information.

*Construction schedules are subject to change based on crew and material availability.
