Safe Routes to School Program

Reading is a great way for kids to learn about walking and biking safety and get kids energized about walking, biking, and rolling to school and in their neighborhoods.

On the following pages, you will find books that celebrate walking, biking, and rolling and start conversations about bullying with kids in Pre-K through 8th grade.

Books available at the Seattle Public Library are noted with as asterisk (*) in the document.

The City of Seattle is not the owner of the material and is only providing a courtesy link to the author's or artist's or Seattle Public Library website along with the recommendation of the book that the viewer can find.

Cycle City*	Alison Farrell	When little Etta the Elephant goes to her Aunt Ellen’s house, she takes a journey through bicycle – filled Cycle City, a town filled with bikes of all kinds! At the end of the day, a special surprise awaits Etta the most amazing bicycle parade imaginable. Detail-rich illustrations in this fun seek-and-find book paint the colors of this unusual town where everyone rides some kind of bike-whether a penny-farthing, a two-wheeled unicycle, or a conference bike, everyone is on wheels! Packed with prompts and lots to see on every page, this is a sweet story for the sharpest of eyes.	Pre-K - 1
Emmanuel’s Dream: The True Story of Emmanuel Ofosu Yeboah*	Laurie Ann Thompson	Born in Ghana, West Africa, with one deformed leg, he was dismissed by most people – but not by his mother, who taught him to reach for his dreams. As a boy, Emmanuel hopped to school more than two miles each way, learned to play soccer, left home at age thirteen to provide for his family, and, eventually, became a cyclist. He rode an astonishing four hundred miles across Ghana in 2001, spreading his powerful message: disability is not inability.	Pre-K
In Lucia’s Neighborhood	Pat Schewuk	Inspired by urban visionary Jane Jacobs, seven-year-old Lucia takes the reader through a day in her neighborhood and celebrates the people and places that make it feel like home. A great starting point for discussions on cities, this book will encourage readers to stop and smell the urban roses.	Pre-K

Last Stop on Market Street*	Matt de la Peña	Every Sunday after church, CJ and his grandma ride the bus across town. But today, CJ wonders why they don't own a car like his friend Colby. Why doesn't he have an iPod like the boys on the bus? How come they always have to get off in the dirty part of town? Each question is met with an encouraging answer from grandma, who helps him see the beauty – and fun – in their routine and the world around them.	Pre-K
The ABC's of Traffic Safety	Whitney M Hemstock	Children will learn basic pedestrian safety with word-letter association and illustrations.	Pre-K
This is the Way We Go to School	Edith Baer	Children from around the world all travel different ways to school	Pre-K
Red Light, Green Light	Yumi Heo	A lift-the-flap board book all about the signs you see on the road!	Pre-K
Froggy Rides a Bike*	Jonathan London	With encouragement from his friends and family, Froggy learns how to ride his shiny new bike.	Pre-K

Maybe Something Beautiful*	Theresa Howell and Isabel Campoy	Mira, the protagonist, decides one day to paste her drawing of a sun on one of the dark walls of an alley on her way back from school, just to bring brightness to the smiles of her neighbors. The force of that sun's attraction transformed those streets and the lives of their neighbors, forever. This is a true story of transformation, based on the work of two exceptional people committed to art and social justice. Rafael and Candice López turned the alleys of the East Village in San Diego into art canvases, and the darkness of their neighborhood into a world of possible hope and beauty.	3rd Grade
My Footprints*	Bao Phi	Every child feels different in some way, but Thuy feels "double different." She is Vietnamese American and she has two moms. Thuy walks home one winter afternoon, angry and lonely after a bully's taunts. Then a bird catches her attention and sets Thuy on an imaginary exploration. What if she could fly away like a bird? What if she could sprint like a deer, or roar like a bear? Mimicking the footprints of each creature in the snow, she makes her way home to the arms of her moms. Together, the three of them imagine beautiful and powerful creatures who always have courage - just like Thuy.	3rd Grade
Fast Enough*	Joel Christian Gill	"Have you ever been told that you're not enough? That you're not strong enough, tall enough, or fast enough? Bessie was told she was not enough. This book combines an imagined story of Bessie Stringfield as a young girl with historical facts about the real Bessie, a true adventurer and one of the first African-American women to travel solo across the United States on a motorcycle."	3rd Grade
